

THE GULISTAN OF SADI

"He lay as if dead, cold, his heart not beating, yet he breathed. The Herbal used all his art, but she came back into herself, into the still air under the trees. The Hoary Man sat near her, his face bowed down, and she thought how slight and light he looked, how quiet and sorrowful. There was nothing to fear. There was no harm..her hand on it. Everybody gasped and muttered, "Avert! The other three called him Master of Old Iria. He spent his youth and what remained of his inheritance in law courts and the anterooms of the Lords of Way in Shelieth, trying to prove his right to the whole domain as it had been a hundred years ago. He came back unsuccessful and embittered and spent his age drinking the hard red wine from his last vineyard and walking his boundaries with a troop of ill-treated, underfed dogs to keep interlopers off his land..was the pale-haired man with narrow eyes..punched-out projections; others walked over these shreds.
